Project Detail

Rock Paper Scissors Game(HTML, CSS, JavaScript)

• As a passionate web developer, I undertook the creation of a Rock Paper Scissors game, employing HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. This project showcases my proficiency in front-end technologies, emphasizing responsive design and dynamic user interaction. I successfully implemented game logic, overcoming challenges in user input handling and refining the visual aesthetics. This experience honed my problem-solving skills and attention to detail, underscoring my commitment to delivering polished and engaging web experiences. The project demonstrates my capability to blend creativity with technical expertise in the realm of web development.
